R E P O R T .

THE Trustees of the Theological Institute in presenting to the Pastoral Union their Fourth Annual Report, feel themselves called upon to acknowledge with gratitude the kindness of our Heavenly Father, in preserving, during the past year the lives and health of the Trustees, Faculty, and Students of the Seminary, and in continuing to prosper the work of our hands. Truly, hitherto the Lord hath helped us, and while we give to him all the glory, we would be encouraged to confide in his protection and blessing for the time to come.

It is now hardly five years since the memorable day when the Pastoral Union was organized, and when after much prayerful deliberation it was resolved to lay the foundation of this school of the prophets. This resolution was adopted in humble dependence on the aid and blessing of the Great Head of the Church ; and thus far he has seemed to smile on our enterprise even beyond our most sanguine expectations. Already we are permitted to rejoice in beholding the fruit of our labors. Not only is the Seminary in successful operation ; but more than fifty young men have already enjoyed the privileges which it affords, and nearly thirty have completed their course of study, and become preachers of the everlasting gospel. Who of us expected that so much would be accomplished in so short a period. In view of such results of our labors, undertaken amid so many discouragements, we are constrained to exclaim, "What hath God wrought !"

During the past year the internal state of the Seminary has been in a peculiarly prosperous condition. The number of students has been rising of thirty. Great harmony has prevailed among them ; and their attention to study and general deportment have been such, as to be highly gratifying to their teachers, and to give promise of future usefulness. The committee appointed to attend the annual examination, say in their report ; "we attended the examination of the Junior, Middle, and Senior classes in the several departments and various branches of study; the original languages and interpretation of the scriptures, biblical and ecclesiastical history, theology, the order and government of the church, and the composition of sermons. The examination was thorough and critical and conducted in such a way as to exhibit the full attainments of the students. No undue prominence was given to particular subjects to the exclusion of others; but all received that attention which is adapted to make the thoroughly furnished laborer in the work of the ministry. The members of the seminary sustained the examination in a manner honorable to themselves and their teachers; and we express our decided conviction that the Institution is under such regulations, and pursuing such a course of study, as entitle it to the full approbation of its guardians and patrons."

In reference to the pecuniary concerns of the Institute, the Prudential Committee state, that it has been their object to bring the expenditures within as narrow a compass as possible; and aside from the salaries of the officers, very little has been expended during the past year. A sufficient amount has been collected to pay the interest of our debt, and to meet the current expenses.

The labors of the Rev. Mr. Calhoun as our agent have been suspended since the last of April, 1837, on account of the pecuniary embarrassments of the country; so that no new subscriptions have been recently obtained. But we are called upon to acknowledge with gratitude the receipt of a valuable bequest the past year. Mr. Alva Gilman, late of Hartford deceased, signified to his heirs on his death-bed, his wish that his property in Toledo, Ohio, might be conveyed to this Institution. They have very cheerfully complied with his wishes, and the conveyance has accordingly been made. What the present value of this property is, we are unable to state. It is real estate for which Mr. Gilman paid, between three and four years ago, something rising of two thousand dollars. It is supposed to have increased considerably in value since that time. It is hoped that this example will stimulate others to remember this infant Seminary when called to make a final disposal of their earthly estates.

The Institute has now in possession, besides the public buildings, two dwelling houses with necessary out buildings, occupied by the President and the Professor of Biblical Literature.

Total cost of all the buildings, . . . . .	$22,332
Lands, . . . . .	4,669
Village Lots in Toledo, lately given to the Institute, estimated at	3,000
Personal Property, consisting of Furniture, Tools, &c. . . . .	1,637
Library, estimated at . . . . .	6,000
There is due on subscriptions $11,476, of which is considered good,	5,000
	<hr/>
	$42,638
The Institute owes, . . . . .	9,600
Balance of property, . . . . .	$33,038

Had all the subscriptions been paid as they fell due, the Institution would at this time have been free from debt ; with a balance in the Treasury almost sufficient to meet the expenditures of another year. But the unparalleled pecuniary embarrassments which have prevailed for the last two years have put it out of the power of several of the large subscribers to pay any thing, and rendered it useless to send agents for the purpose of obtaining new subscriptions. We have therefore refrained for the last year and a half from making any appeal to the public. But we can consistently delay no longer. To liquidate our debt and provide for future wants, it is important that new subscriptions should be immediately obtained ; and we trust that the friends and patrons of the Institution will be prompt to supply its wants.

It has never been the desire of the Trustees to accumulate a large amount of permanent funds. Our prayer has been "give us this day our daily bread ;" and thus far, our request has been granted. It is believed that there is no other similar institution in the land whose operations are conducted with so little expense. If our debt was discharged, an annual income of less than three thousand dollars would be sufficient to meet our ordinary expenditures. Will the numerous friends of this Institution, esteem it a burden to furnish this amount ?

In regard to manual labor, we would state that the students generally continue to manifest a commendable degree of interest in the subject ; and we cannot doubt that it has contributed greatly to the vigorous state of health which has so generally prevailed among them.

In conclusion, we would express our earnest prayer, that the blessing of Heaven may continue to rest on this infant seminary.

May its guardians, and teachers, and students be plentifully endowed with the spirit of their divine master. May they so discharge their respective duties, as to receive at last, the benediction, "well done good and faithful servants."
